Locum Minister's Letter

Dear Friends

To open oneself to others unconditionally is to be with them in the presence of God. That is the heart of intercession. To pray for another is to be with another, whether in silence or compassion or in listening.

The poet W H Auden has called this 'paying attention'. 'Whenever a person so concentrates his attention on a subject—be it a landscape, a poem, a geometrical problem, or the Living God – that he completely forgets himself and everything else, he is praying.' [W. H. Auden: Culture and Leisure, 1966]

This is very like the approach of the Spanish priest (and founder of the Jesuits) Ignatius Loyola (1491–1556). Loyola in his early life was a soldier and was converted while recuperating from wounds received in battle. His contemplative approach to life has now become a way of prayer and worship followed and used in many Christian denominations throughout the world. Ignatian spirituality is a spirituality for everyday life and places great emphasis on discerning God's presence in all the activities of ordinary living. 'The world is charged with the grandeur of God.' This line from a poem by Gerard Manley Hopkins captures a central theme of Ignatian spirituality, namely its insistence that God is at work everywhere – in work, in relationships, in culture, in the arts, in intellectual life and in creation itself. As Ignatius put it, all the things in the world are presented to us 'so that we can know God more easily and make a return of love more readily.'

The Kirk Session has decided to invite the Rev Scott McKenna to come to a meeting and explain more about this way of worshipping and praying. It would certainly meet the requests made by a number in the Congregational Survey that we should be trying out different forms of service and that there should be a place for quietness and meditation.

On another matter related to our worship, the Kirk Session's attention has been drawn to the fact that the short communion services which have been held after morning services on the last Sunday of the month often seem to come immediately before our statutory communion Sundays, and in some cases actually clash with these and other events in the Christian year. It has therefore been decided to move away from the last Sunday for the months of October, November and December and instead, as an experiment, hold short communion services once a month on Wednesday evenings at 7.00pm. Dates for these will be publicised in Connections and in the Sunday intimations. You are invited to consider these ventures as meeting our needs in these times of change.

Locum Minister

Penitent Space

I had opened our first QII night this year exploring 'repentance', in an effort to create a 'penitent space' in our meetings. The New Testament usage of 'repentance' does not borrow as heavily from guilt and shame as many tend to think. Rather, the New Testament usage of repentance has more to do with 'changing your mind' – but to change your mind not about mundane things like what colour of t-shirt you wear, or what to have for lunch, but rather to change your mind about the nature of reality and what constitutes the good life.

Life, I suspect, tears down unbiblical faith, not biblical faith. Further, it is by no means assured, simply because you go to church, that you are inculcating a biblical faith. I would argue further that an integral part of what constitutes the Christian life is training in the discipline of repentance; of unlearning what you have learned, and not assuming from the first that your way is the correct way. And this is part of what we do in QII.

QII, as a penitent space, seeks to promote theological literacy at a level appropriate for teenaged faith. It means deconstructing the mental idols we hold of God in order to apprehend the living God who addresses us out of the bible, and to pursue a life of faith, hope, and charity. In the coming months, I hope also to have members of the congregation coming to QII both to discuss their own ideas but also their own faith. I will warn you though – you might get a crash course in repentance along the way.

Recordings

Listen to recordings of our services – this is appreciated by those who find it difficult to get to church. It may also be of interest to those who have missed a service due to illness or being away.

The recording is normally available later that Sunday. A link can be provided for listening to the recording of the sermon or the whole service on a computer, tablet or mobile phone.

Other formats are available on a monthly basis – CD or memory stick.

Request these through your elder, or email the church office

greenbankchurch@btconnect.com or speak to me.

Would elders please consider whether members of their district might appreciate this service.

Christmas Card Sale

A small number of charities, including CrossReach (Church of Scotland Social Care Council) will be selling Christmas cards after the 10.30am service on Sunday 5th November.

Session Clerk's News

There is not much to say this month about the Vacancy but I thought I would do a general update about current events and matters that the Kirk Session is discussing. As regards the vacancy the Nominating Committee now awaits the closing date of 30th September for applications. Meantime the Kirk Session is giving further thought to some of the suggestions that emerged in the consultation. We aim to put together a plan for the future and maybe try out some of the ideas before we elect the new Minister. This will show that we can live up to our Profile's description of being an active, forward thinking congregation.

Retiral of Clifford Hastings

Clifford Hastings has retired from the Kirk Session. Clifford was ordained to the eldership and admitted to the Kirk Session in Greenbank in 1980. He was soon the District elder for District 39. Later, and until recently, he looked after District 61A. He has been an exceptionally caring District elder and will be much missed. He served Greenbank in many ways but it is in his role as Convener of the Centenary Fundraising Committee that we perhaps owe him our greatest gratitude. In that role he energised the congregation to give generously so we could create our splendid suite of halls behind the sanctuary. At its meeting on 30th May the Kirk Session accepted Clifford's decision to retire with regret, and thanked him for his unfailing kindness and courtesy, humour, energy and dedication.

Retiral of Alan Irvine

Alan has decided that, after 13 years as our organist and choirmaster, he wants to retire in May 2018. There will be opportunities later to say our thanks to Alan for his huge contribution to the worship of Greenbank. Meantime, we are grateful for the long period of notice he has given. The Kirk Session has set up a small group to start the search for his successor.

Flower Convener

Christine Willis has given up as Flower Convener. We are very sorry to see her go. She has quietly and efficiently carried out this role for 6 years. Thank you Christine for all your hard work. Mairi Stevenson has agreed to take over and will be looking after the flowers with a small group of people with an interest in flowers. More help is always appreciated.

Church Library

Is anyone interested in helping with the adult section of the Church Library? If so please speak to Moira Small or to me.

Understanding our Faith Conference

On 4th November in Perth there will be a conference organised by the Church of Scotland Mission and Discipleship Council to encourage believers to develop a deeper and clearer understanding of Christian faith. Further details on the Church of Scotland website where bookings can be made up to 15th October.

Session Clerk

Vacancy News

The vacancy has now been advertised on the Church of Scotland website. It gives a link to the Parish and Congregational Profile and invites applications by 30th September.

You can find the Profile on the Greenbank website along with the report of the consultation with the congregation. If you want to see a paper copy of either document you should ask at the office or speak to your District elder.

The Nominating Committee was elected on 30th July and is now hard at work. Its Convener is Janet Allan, Vice-convener – Anne Kinnear, Clerk – Joan Ritchie and Minute Secretary – Kirsten Pink. The other members are John Adair, Helen Barnes, Richard Dunbar, John Ferguson, Robin Nimmo, Ann Pirie, Carrie Reid, Neil Ross and me.

Over the next period there will be little, if anything, that I can report to you about the work of the Committee because it has to be given time and space to carry out its task in confidence. Can I ask you to keep us in your thoughts and prayers.

We now go into the autumn period at Greenbank in good heart, knowing that all the preliminary stages of the vacancy are complete; the Committee is actively searching for our new Minister; and we have excellent leadership from our Ministerial team and office bearers to sustain our worship, discipleship, pastoral care and administration until our new Minister is found.

As ever, please do not hesitate to speak to your District elder or to me if anything is concerning you.

Gift Aid: A Reminder

The 2016 Accounts for Greenbank Church (a registered Charity) disclose that the aggregate amount of Gift Aid reclaimed from HMRC last year was in excess of £50,000. Grateful thanks are due to all who have helped to contribute to this significant sum which greatly augments the Church's finances.

Going forward it is important that, individually, we continue to maximise the value of our donations. The key elements of Gift Aid are:

- It increases our giving by 25% – at no additional cost to the donor
- No minimum contribution is required
- No particular amount has to be promised
- There is no fixed term during which contributions must be made
- Tax may be recovered retrospectively

All that is required is that the donor must pay UK income tax or capital gains tax, at any rate, at least equal to the amount of tax being reclaimed, and give their donation through offering envelopes or by bank standing order or by cheque, to establish the necessary audit trail.

Donors must also sign a Gift Aid declaration form, which gives the name of the congregation and the donor's name and address (including postcode).

There are therefore two matters to consider:

1. If you currently do not give through Gift Aid, check if you are eligible as a taxpayer, and if so please consider giving by this means.

2. If you do currently Gift Aid your donations, check that you are still paying as much or more tax than the amount of Gift Aid claimed on your donations (to ALL charities) in the corresponding tax year. If the answer is "no", please inform the Treasurer or one of the Assistant Treasurers.

If you wish more information or assistance on any of the above, please get in touch with one of the following:

*Kathryn Sangster, Michael Struthers
(Assistant Treasurers)*

Christian Aid Film Night

There will be a Film Night on Friday 20th October in the Centenary Hall at 7.30pm, with proceeds going to Christian Aid; the main film will be Out of Africa. Tickets are available from members of the committee and from the Church Office.

Friendship Club

If you fancy joining the Friendship Club, where friendship does play an important part, come along on Wednesday 4th

October at 2.30pm in the Lower Hall. What better way to start the new session than by enjoying a relaxing afternoon when beauty, colour and music are blended so skilfully by our good friend Bill Barr?

On the Summer Outing

Kathleen, on the 11th, will be giving us a Lucky Dip selection of music from her wonderful and varied collection, then on the 18th we will discover the history and mystery of “Soutra Aisle” from Dr Brian Moffat. The first meeting of November, on the 1st, will take us into the workings of a forge. We look forward to seeing you on the 4th. For any further information contact:

Annual Subscription for Life & Work and Donations for Greenbank Connections

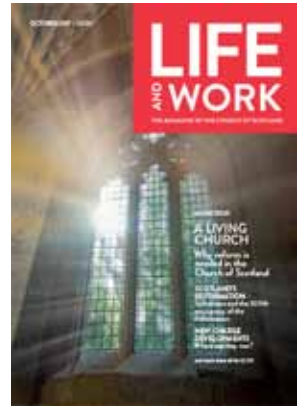

You are invited to subscribe for 12 editions of the Church of Scotland's Life & Work magazine for the 2018 calendar year. The annual subscription is £28 payable by 15th November 2017 to enable us to submit the Church's bulk order in time. We will order Life & Work only for those who have made the payment by that date.

Greenbank Connections, with its up to date news about Greenbank Church, is provided to all members free of charge for nine editions during 2017. In order to defray the printing and production costs, a suggested donation of £10 or more per household, also payable preferably by 15th November 2017, would be welcome.

A single payment of £38 can be made to cover both Greenbank Connections and Life & Work.

Payments, stating whether you are subscribing to Life & Work and/or contributing to Greenbank Connections and, importantly, giving details of your name and address, should be put in an envelope addressed to 'The Treasurer' and delivered to the Church Office (by post or hand) or through the Sunday offering bags. Cheques should be made payable to 'Greenbank Church'.

Cornerstone Bookshop

The Cornerstone has moved to new premises under St John's church at the foot of Lothian Road. They are open for business and soon there will be a café next door and lift access. The staff would love to see anyone who is looking for material of a religious nature, and they are very happy to offer advice or suggestions.

The Guild

A successful season of Summer Coffee Mornings finished in September with many people enjoying coffee, cake and lots of chat.

Two of our Guild members went to the Annual Gathering success of the current projects (the Guild in Scotland has raised over £500,000 in the past two years for these), the work being done to combat Human Trafficking and of course the inimitable Heart and Soul Swing Band encouraging both song and dance (not that there's much room for that in the Caird Hall!).

We are looking forward to starting our

in Dundee and had a great day. Many thoroughly enjoyed watching it live online courtesy of Craiglockhart Guild. It was a lively day with The Moderator, Dr Derek Browning inspiring as the main speaker, lots of joyful singing, news of the session on Tuesday October 3rd at 7.30pm with news of the development of the new Edinburgh Children's Hospital. On the 17th the Rev John Stevenson will be looking at this year's theme for the Guild – Go in Love.

World Mission

On the 31st the subject will be the story of Wojtek the Polish Soldier Bear and the campaign to fund the statue of him which now stands in Princes Street Gardens.

Anyone can come to our meetings: always interesting, some thought provoking, some fun, and there's always a warm welcome for newcomers as well as old friends.

There will be more about the Guild and the Projects in next month's Connections.

The World Mission Council and Interfaith Scotland are taking an interfaith group comprising five Muslims and five Christians to Rwanda to engage with the work of our partner, the Programme of Christian Muslim Relations in Africa. This trip aims to build the capacity of young people to become interfaith leaders both locally and internationally. It will allow participants to explore their and other people's faith, issues facing young people, religion and international relations.

To help them, Interfaith Scotland will support them to run events during Scottish Interfaith Week in November this year and there will also be a Conference for young people in 2018.

What have faith and money got to do with Climate Change? If you are interested, there is an event on Thursday, 12th October 2017 from 9.45am – 1.45pm in St Andrew's & St George's West Church, Edinburgh. This event is free but you need to register to attend:

Summer Walks

The YACHT summer walks proved a big hit, raising money but also contributing to our Eco Congregation objectives to celebrate creation, use less fossil fuel (all were by bus and foot travel!) and enjoy the simple pleasures of walking and talking together. £310 was raised. Around 25 members took part.

If any other groups or individuals would like to experience the trips, please contact David Jack
